SWANSEA, MASS.

1951

Foreword

Four years have flown by and the class of 1951 has come of age. From a world kindled with the blush of renewed peace and hope, our skies have darkened until, as we face our graduation, the relentless fury of the gathering storm again threatens. For as long as we live, we shall have to struggle to reconcile God and man, science and the soul, the teeming millions of the downtrodden and oppressed who are yearning to throw aside their yokes and be free. It will not be pleasant at times, but the class of 1951 is ready to meet the challenge of its time. It will not run and hide.

In memory of four awakening years, the class of 1951 leaves its yearbook, Memoriae.

Gene Maree Beynon
Editor-in-Chief '51

Dedication

It is with the deepest pleasure and pride that the class of 1951 dedicates the record of its years at Case to its loyal class advisor, Mr. William J. Edgar. Many times, the shepherd of the '51 flock had quite a time leading the sheep in the proper direction. He is the Spirit behind the good things we have accomplished. His principles of integrity, and honesty, and his goodnatured faith in his flock despite our many foibles shall be responsible for much that is fine in us in the future.

MR. GREENMAN

Our Superintendent, Richard B. Greenman, has our gratitude and admiration. He is a quite man, of infinite patience; a doer, not a talker. Although he has made no great tumult over his vast improvements of our schools and equipment, his work has not gone unnoticed or unappreciated. We realize our benefits and know that he will just as quietly and capably continue on his path of progress.

MISS REAGAN

To our beloved principle go our heartfelt thanks as we leave our high school days behind us. With the burning zeal of the truly dedicated, she has bequeathed to us not only the heritage of our language and literature, but also the inspiring principles that motivated the great men and women of prose, poetry, and statemanship.

Class History

The second bloody extravaganza to engulf the world had been over a bare two years when we came of age. Fresh from a somewhat hasty childhood, confused by a war we were too young to understand, we awoke to gawky, adolescence. Seventy-four strong, bewildered and at loose ends, we were received with a shade of skepticism. In our opinion however our talents were exceeded only by our enthusiasm. With our arrival Case's Golden Age began.

After the smoke of our oratory had cleared, we found ourselves with some rather tall orders to fill. Rules bored us. The thousand and one regulations necessary to restrain adolescent exuberance were blythly ignored. However, one decayed precedent had to be obeyed, the election of class officers. We who were to set the world afire, marked our ballots. It seemed such a trivial thing. Little did we realize that within the space of three years our boys would become men, fighting for the ideal of that ballot.

Of the methods of combining talents for the good of the whole class, we knew little. Some were eager to do anything and everything; others were quite content to snooze until the opening strains of the graduation march sounded. Our class advisor often found his Army experience invaluable. Gradually he convinced us of the wisdom and necessity of parliamentary procedure. The cement-mixer quality of our class at work changed to a more harmonious tone.

After the feverish intensity of our debut, the second year of the "Golden Age" was the calm after the storm. True, we managed to have one of eight-hundred or so fingers in every school pie, but we no longer made quite so much noise about ourselves. We became quite famous during those middle years for spectacular successes and fabulous flops. We enjoyed both. The days were so full, and the best always seemed yet to come.

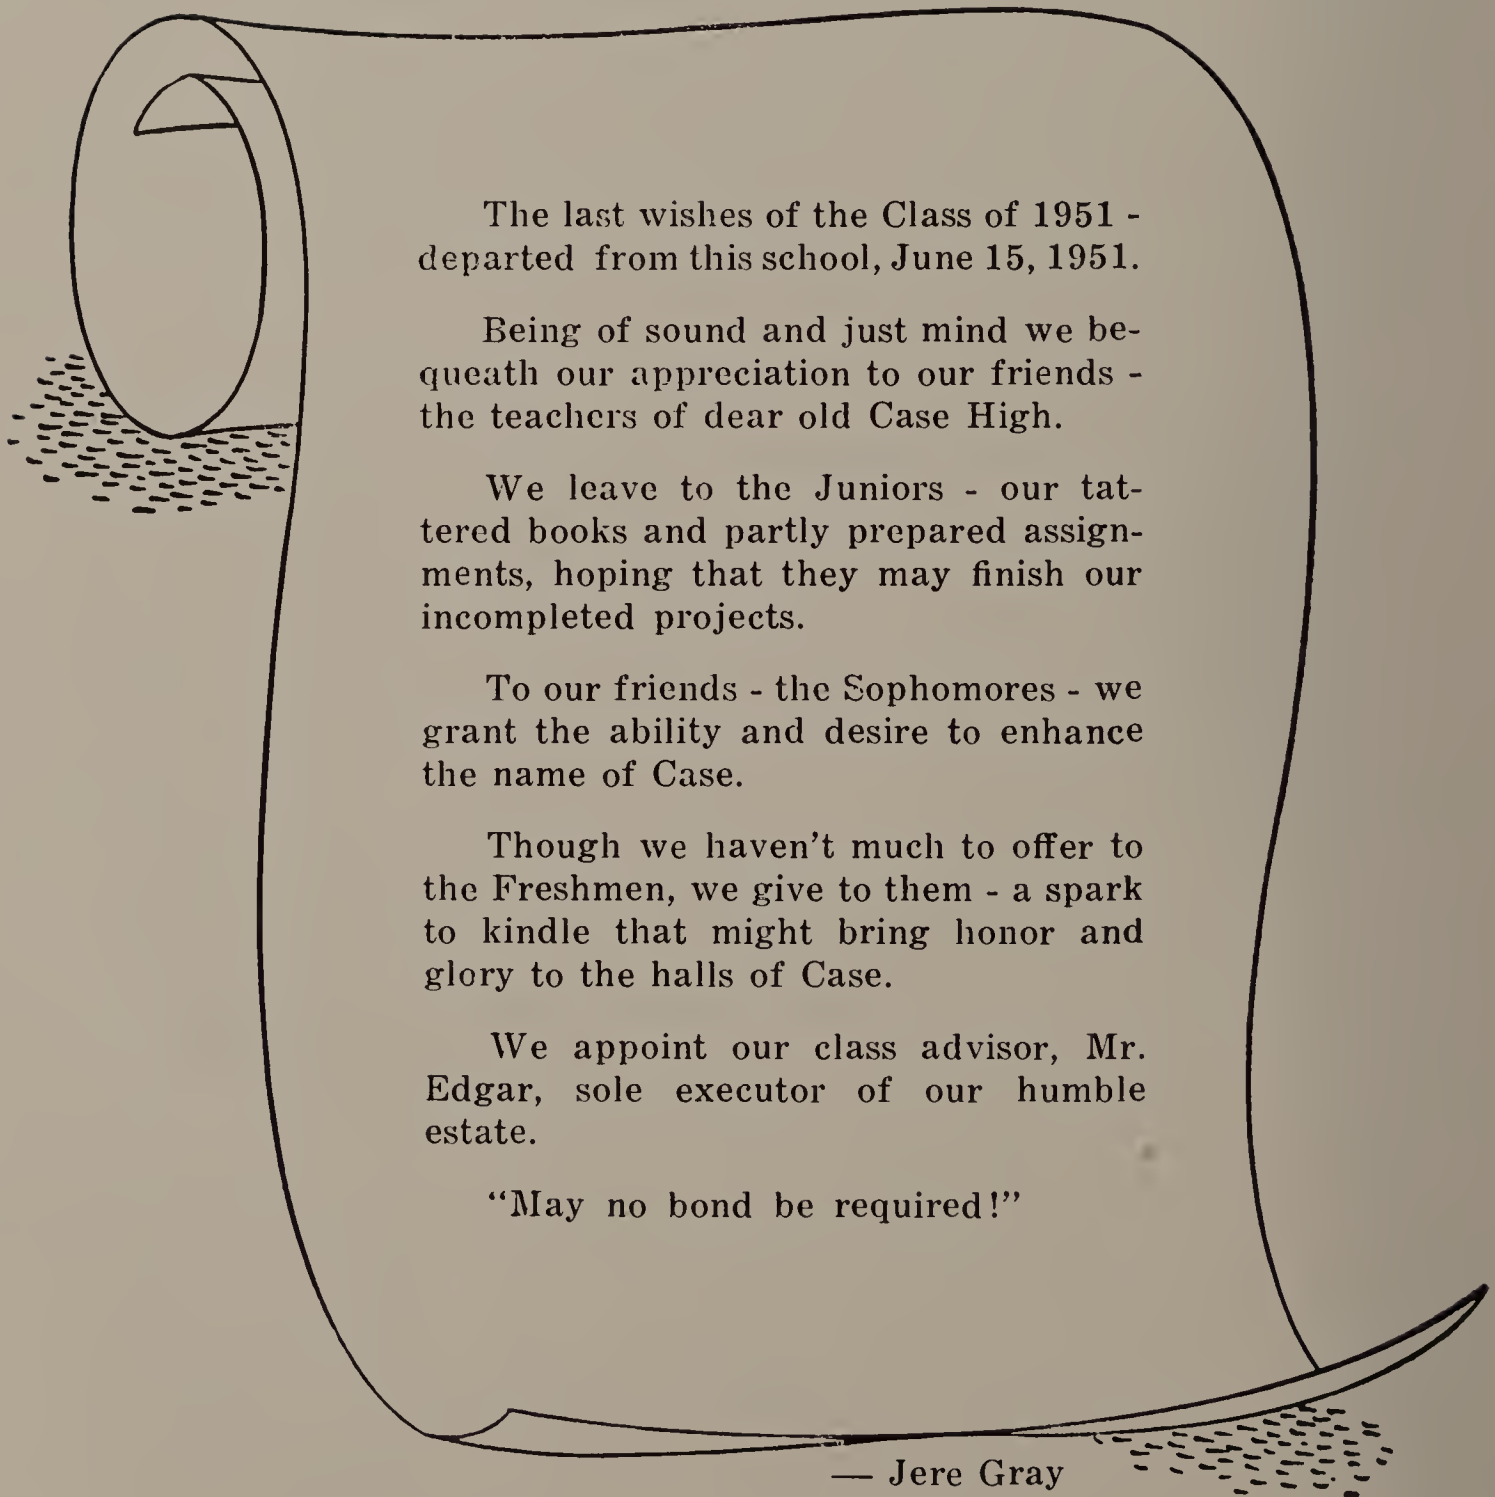

Here at last is the year of our Swan Song. Twenty-two classmates, nearly one-third of our rebel band, are not here to sing with us. We who are left are still imbued with that pioneer spirit, but four years of study, play, laughter and tears, success and failure have tempered it with common sense. A yoyo, a wad of gum, carrots, the fading flowers carefully pressed after a prom, a broken megaphone, a sweaty football jersey, Hoodsie tops, current events only half memorized, Psalm 117, George, long arguments over small details, all these are the sentimental souvenirs of our history, our growing up.

These are years of crisis. All the institutions and enduring principles that have become part of our way of life are threatened today. Far-reaching decisions face us that we feel only half-ready to make. We question why our generation must rationalize and control primitive desires at such cost. The answer is harshly simple. "Moral law is written on the tablets of eternity." Responsibilities shall always be with us of one kind or another, crystallizing our character into maturity. The ideals set forth in our Bible and our national law are not worth the paper upon which they are written if they are not worth fighting for as moral and right. To men and women of character, a crisis is a dangerous opportunity. Ours is either the most fortunate or the most thoroughly damned generation in human history.

by GENE BEYNON

Class Will

The last wishes of the Class of 1951 - departed from this school, June 15, 1951.

Being of sound and just mind we bequeath our appreciation to our friends - the teachers of dear old Case High.

We leave to the Juniors - our tattered books and partly prepared assignments, hoping that they may finish our incompleted projects.

To our friends - the Sophomores - we grant the ability and desire to enhance the name of Case.

Though we haven't much to offer to the Freshmen, we give to them - a spark to kindle that might bring honor and glory to the halls of Case.

We appoint our class advisor, Mr.
Edgar, sole executor of our humble estate.

"May no bond be required!"

— Jere Gray

Class Prophecy

Only with the omnipotence of time will history speak of us in general terms of a disillusioned people contemptuous of our liberties and safeguarding them heedless of consequences. "Here," will be said, "was a generation brought forth to a world bent upon the destruction and total obliteration of itself while in retrospect the arts and cultures flourished flagrantly as the orchid blooming in the decadence of death." Historians will shuffle the facts in order to generalize the issues; thus overlooking human compassions, they will berate us, yet lament the circumstances that so molded our characteristics. A telling epilogue will be placed upon our works. It will read: "Theirs was an untimely entrance; the golden citadel was hovering unsteadily in the mire and misery of the masses. The events, compiled into a space of one short life-time, rose and fell with their terse bewilderment and inconsistency of purpose." Thus a generation continued until the inevitable clash, leaving with an untimely exit, for others to carry on in the ever continuing cycle of human affairs.

But let the careful students of infinity note. We made our entrance; comprehended with youthful intelligence the crisis of world's length; saw loved ones leave — never to return — for a cause of short care to children growing without fear. Then came studies, ideas and decisions, which composed us into the elements of manhood.

At first to the radicalism of youth these conditions created disgust and indignation; then a tempered and compassionate mind with understanding — here grew human compassion. This fact so easily overlooked in a faucet of events produced the cynicism which mounted in tumultuous torrents of words.

Taught by the years before, tolerance took the place of appeasement, and became the supposed mantle of peace. But in this mantle thrived and bred the leech to clemency. Yet filching truths could not shape an entire race of people to a perfect, spherical demagogue playing influences on prejudices and ignorances; and so the calm before the tempest broke.

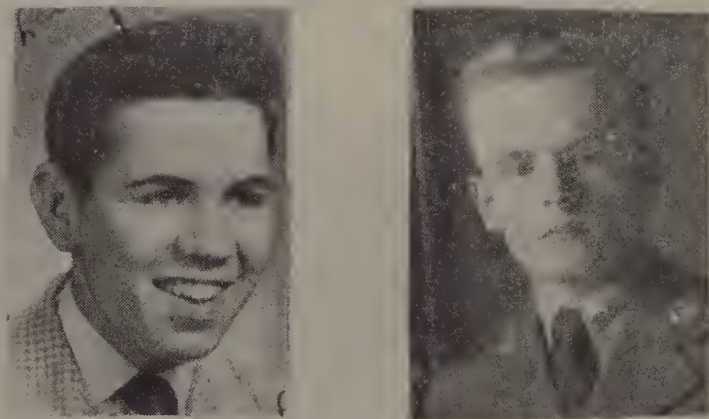

Our talents were converted into the necessary means of survival — and often mistakes were paid for with our ultimate gift, our very lives. Once again force and power were our temporary resorts; nevertheless progress through trial and error was witnessed by the world.

Contrary to opinion, our international organization had not failed us. It had succeeded in holding off the ebb tides of major dissensions longer than was anticipated. The break being made, a sense of brotherhood became strong through us — ordinary men — which gradually enveloped the globe into a world community. Hesitancy in breaches of friendship and union were becoming less scarce, tribulations were becoming spherical concerns, and war was no longer thought a "regrettable but ultimately inescapable phase of human affairs."

Thus the short space of time which we may call our lives lingers at the turn of the century reflecting the past. Then with a turn to the present and future can be seen the assent of the younger generation, a garden of eternity in dreams. Today is upon us; tomorrow will come; yesterday was here and so will it ever be.

SERVICEMEN OF THE CLASS OF 1951

These are the first of our men to go. There will be others. It has always been the duty of youth, our finest and best, to make amends for the blundering of statesmen and the inconsistencies in the moral fibre of practical men. These soldiers, who a short time ago were boys in the midst of school, realized their duty. They are determined not to fail. "Once more a man must bear the nations stain."

To set the cause above renown
 To love the game beyond the prize,
 To honor, while you strike him down
 The foe, that comes with fearless eyes;
 To count the life of battle good
 And dear the land that gave you birth,
 And dearer yet the brotherhood
 That binds the brave of all the earth.

Clifton Chapel Stanza 2

Sir Henry Newbolt

D. A. R. GIRL

Suzanne is a quiet girl. Even we who are her classmates feel that four years has been far too short a time in which to barely begin to comprehend the depth of character and strength of mind of this unassuming young woman. Yet, while the more exuberent of us were noisely proclaiming our assets, full of juvenile bump-tiousness, Suzanne's thoughts seemed inwardly turned. On those occasions when she has taken her pen in hand, eloquent, even-flowing phrases, full of beautiful expression have delighted our ears. One glance at her crystal-clear, twinkling blue eyes will reveal a glimpse of her fun-loving heart, quick to sympathize or to help. We of the class of 51 are proud to have her as our Daughter of the American Revolution, and sincerely wish that she may continue to enrich the lives of those who know her with her gifts of mind and spirit.

HARVARD AWARD

Every year it is the custom of the Fall River Harvard Club to award the Harvard Book to the outstanding Junior boy. This year's winner is indeed outstanding in every respect. A brilliant student, known to his pals at "Jackie", Oliver Jackson is an excellent example of how to study and enjoy high school life to the fullest. There have been very few extra-curricular activities that Jackie has not been in up to his busy ears. As an added activity, he has kept the projection equipment, in fact, all electrical apparatus around the school in apple-pie order. He has served for two years as chief assistant to Visual-Aids director Mr. Edgar. Regarded by students and faculty alike as an all-round, thoroughly likable, and mature young man, Jackie has the warmest congratulations of his entire school as he receives this well deserved honor.

URSULA KOCH

Case has been very fortunate in having had for the past school year, an interesting and a most charming guest from Stuttgart, Germany. Ursula has made her home away from home with the Anthony Chace's of Pierce Road. She has been active in the French Club and also on the girls basketball team. Fun-loving and a good sport Ursula will be sadly missed by her many friends at Case as she plans to return to Germany in a few months. The success and enjoyability of her visit has made the young people of Swansea eager for another exchange student. Best of luck always, Ursula

THE FOUR SEASON'S

CHARLOTTE DUCKWORTH

Spring

Returned is the melodious spring
Bright-plummed birds warble and sing
While buds on bushes and trees gaily bloom
Leaving behind the winter's gloom.

Summer

When lazy summer embraces the land.
The flowers feel her warm loving hand
By bursting forth in bright array
Until autumn steals their petals away.

Fall

Autumn is a cool, beautiful time
With rustic colors of yellow and wine.
On country-sides stand shocks of corn
And a few old pumpkins, looking forlorn.

Winter

Wind and snow blow through the trees
Ponds and rivers begin to freeze.
Begun is winter's harsh cold reign,
To be broken in time by Spring again.

THE DAM AT TWILIGHT

by GENE BEYNON

What art thou, but the mirror of my dream,
Ever young as the vibrant leaves,
Full blown with the blaze of noonday sun
That was my youth?
A Sun whose aging beams
Are reflected in thy pool of quiet thought
That lies as a gentle soothing balm
Over the pain of yesterday,
And lulls the earth to sleep.
Morning saw my dawn,
With it, bright horizons.
The clarion birds, full-plumed and vigorous,
Trilled the ballads of clouds already kissed.
No less did I.
Little noticed shadows of a truer wisdom
That I would come to know
As thy gentle ripples cleansed the stinging salt
Of many tears, away from a broken heart.
Wiser yet at eventide,
As the velvet breath of twilight
Wraps me warm and safe, into the summer eve.
Would I had known he would so quickly fly,
And leave me gasping and alone—
Until the sighing murmur of thee, quiet waters.
Lovingly repeated,
“Never dies the dream.”

STUDENT COUNCIL

OFFICERS

President: Dana Nickerson
Secretary: Ann Hodgkinson

Vice-President: Robert Sprague
Treasurer: Nancy Warburton

Many new ideas are in order for future student Councils at Case. The members of this year's board are working for a change of by-laws whereby, not only the officers of each class will be student Council members, but also certain able students from the general body of each may be elected to the council.

Chosen in general school elections to head this vital group in 1952 are the following officers.

President — Frank Misiorski, '52
Vice-president — Roger Castonguay, '52
Treasurer — Kenneth Stevens, '55
Secretary — Beverly Ash, '54

LIBRARIANS

These library aides, under the direction of school librarian, Miss Rita Sullivan, give up their study periods each day, in order to assist the students in choosing books for both pleasure and research. They have proven themselves of great help and the class of 1951 extends its thanks and appreciation to them.

In addition to the annual outing at Horseneck Beach when warm weather rolls around, the library tea, and a theatre party are being included in the social activities of the group. Organized into a club with Joy Deane, president; Dolores Gonsalves, vice-president; Grace Conboy, treasurer; and Ethel Mederos, secretary — these workers have become a most important unit to the well-being of the school.

The projection club has done much during the 1950-51 school year to bring films and slides of both an educational and enjoyable value to our classrooms. The wire recorder, which has proved its class worth in many respects, has been of particular service in helping students, in the formation of good speech habits and in aiding the music groups to improve their renditions. All sound and lighting effects used during assemblies, concerts, and plays in our school are the responsibility of the members of this club.

Joseph Case High School's Dramatic Club of the 1950 school year was well under way by November and "The Florist Shop", a one act play was presented December 1. On the same billing was "Over Night Guests", done by the Faculty. The proceeds from this event went to the scholarship funds of the Joseph Case High School P. T. A. On January 5, "The Florist Shop" was staged at the Dighton High School in exchange for the entertainment of their Glee Club.

Pins were presented to the members at the Annual Awards Assembly in June.

FRENCH CLUB

President: Nancy Warburton

Vice-President: Ursula Koch

Secretary: Suzanne Mocko

Treasurer: George Greenman

Others: Donald Walton, Norman Cardoso, Carl Walsh

La Cercle Francais has added another successful year to its fine record. This small group of advanced students in French read some of the old French masters, and occasionally enact one or more of their shorter plays.

One of the important projects of the group is the publication of "La Classicle", the French paper. The first issue for 1950-51 appeared in November and was followed by one each month thereafter.

Socials, teas, and theatre parties marked the activities of the group.

ORCHESTRA

Trombone: Ann Hodgkinson, Annie Thurston, Oliver Jackson

Trumpet: John Pavao, Ronald LaPointe, Ronald Fierra, Honore LaChance.

Violin: Paul Pelletier, Gordon Luther, Clarence Horton, Barbara Blackburn.

Clarinet: Nancy Warburton, James Fiddler, Richard Mickool, Shirley Anderton.

Piano: Florence MaCombie, Ursula Dittami.

Tynphanie: Roger Williams.

Chello: Betty Mae Pollard.

Congratulats to the members of the orchestra and to their director, Mrs. Irene Monte on the outstanding performances they gave during the year. Open House, and the Christmas concert are only a few of the many occasions on which they displayed their fine musical ability.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB

The Girls Glee Club is composed of those girls who have a sincere interest in singing for the love of music. It was the largest choral group at Case in 1950-51, offering most of its selections in four part harmony. Soloists during the year were Carol Anderton, Dolores Gonsalves, Gene Beynon, Ann Hodgkinson, Carolyn Souza, and Lydia Moniz. The girls were featured in the Christmas concert, the Spring TV show and also received a superior rating at the Weymouth Southeastern Mass. music festival. Well done, girls.

BOYS GLEE CLUB

Music participation on the part of boys at Case is improving and increasing. Ample proof of these happy observations is the Boys Glee Club, 1950-51 edition. Also lending its support to the Christmas concert and to the Spring TV show, the boys sang their finest selections in three and four part harmony. Their rating at the Weymouth festival was an excellent one. Two members, John Pavao, baritone, and Gordon Luther, base, also attended the Worcester All-State festival February 7, 8, and 9, where they were part of the 400 voice all-state chorus directed by John Raymond, of Lafayette University, Easton. Pa.

MIXED CHORUS

Combining the voices of both glee clubs gave Case its fine mixed chorus. This mixed harmony also lent its support to the two annual concerts and the Weymouth festival. In addition, members were enabled during the year to attend performances by the Fall River Civic Music Association including Marion Bell, soprano, the Boy's Town Choir, the Rabinoffs, and the Baltimore Symphony.

CARDINAL CHOIR

This entirely new group is the Cardinal Girls Choir. Originally called the "special girls glee club", it was the result of added interest in music on the part of these volunteers to stay after school twice weekly in order to accomplish more difficult selections. Two of its members attended the Worcester All-State festival, Gene Beynon, second soprano, and Carol Anderton, first alto. The choir performed for the Rotary and Lion's clubs of Fall River, all the Swansea P. T. A.'s, and the Durfee music clubs, in addition to their regular school performances. Newly elected officers for the coming year are:

President — Carol Anderton

Vice-president — Shirley Anderton

Secretary — Beverly Ash

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

President: Cris Greer

Vice-President: Robert Mickool

Secretary: Joy Deane

Treasurer: Jackie Pickens

Once a month the president and secretary of the Athletic Association meet with the A A Council which includes the principal of the school, the director of athletics, the faculty manager, and the two coaches, to discuss school policies toward athletics. This practice of pupil participation gives students a chance, through their representatives, to discuss sports, athletic problems, and school spirit in general with the faculty members.

In addition to the traditional sports, football, basketball, baseball, and track, a bowling league, consisting of six members on each team was formed during the 1950-1951 school year.

CHEERLEADERS

People really heard the cheering this year!

Through their victories and their defeats, the football squad was encouraged by these faithful followers. Led by Joy Deane, head cheerleader, Jackie Pickens, Marion MacDonald, Lois Jacobson, Shirley Giovino, Shirley Doane, and Alice Miller set an excellent standard to which future Case cheerleaders might aspire.

The genuinely fine spirit displayed by these girls at the weekly rallies secured for the team many faithful rooters.

GIRLS TRACK

Once again Case girls will enroll as competitors in the annual field and track meet sponsored by the Narragansett League.

That they will represent Case in a most agile manner is a foregone assumption.

1951 Record — Dighton Meet, 880 Relay, 1st prize, established new record.

Nancy Warburton, Case girl athletic of the year.

Points won in the broad jump and the softball throw by Nancy Warburton and Paula Duebel.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Our aspirations high, we expect to set goals in the coming season that might serve as standards for future alummae.

For the second consecutive year the girls basketball team, under the able direction of Mrs. Monroe Dean, took its stand in the Narragansett League.

FOOTBALL

With six lettermen returning along with reserves from last season, and the addition of several newcomers, the job of assembling Case High's gridiron representatives was launched.

Our debut was a success as we set back a surprisingly strong St. Andrew's team (21-6) on the strength of Bill Gilger's 25 yard dash through left tackle.

Next Saturday an immovable object, in the person of every member of the Cardinal team, was met by an irresistible force, the Dartmouth running attack, and the only way we could gain was through the air. Case drove deep into Dartmouth territory twice but bogged down, a 0-0 deadlock was the outcome.

Swansea was invaded by the big and powerful Class C, Mansfield eleven, and, after four quarters against the outweighed but not outfought Cardinals, the Green and White emerged victorious 22-7. Our 7 points came on two Greer aerials into the left flat to Don Walton, one for the T. D. and the other for the point.

Durfee Jayvees were swamped by an inspired Cardinal club, fighting to remove the sting of the previous week's defeat. Captain Cris Greer led his mates to a 39-6 victory by scoring three touchdowns on quarterback sneaks. Bill Gilger scored from the four, after setting up the score himself with a long sprint of about 20 yards; Bob Daley sprinted off tackle on a 40 yard jaunt; Don Walton scooted 45 yards on end-around and took a Greer pass for an extra point, and Enrico Andrade grabbed two Greer aerals for two points.

Diman Voke was the next victim, falling before the smooth functioning Cardinal offense whose appetite had been sharpened by the Durfee victory and who hadn't lost the taste of blood during the intervening open date. Hugh Kenworthy played wonderful ball that afternoon, as did the entire Case backfield, behind the tough Case line; he was remarkable on defense, backing up the right side of the line, and, in addition, he scored the first T. D. by breaking through the right guard and tackle and going 45 yards. Greer scored our second tally on a 2 yard quarterback sneak. Our final touchdown was on a 35 yard run between left guard and tackle by Bill Gilger.

Class C Barnstable found the wet weather and slimey field to the advantage of their much heavier line, which averaged close to 185 pounds per man, and the good little man wasn't quite good enough, so he went down to a 20-0 defeat.

Dighton, last year's Class C and Narry League champions, displayed who they repeated as Narry League champs by beating us 40-6 that cold, wet November day. Nothing can be taken from them; they were good, and their all-around attack overwhelmed us. Our lone tally came when Bob Daley went off left tackle for four yards.

Thanksgiving dawned clear and cold; the field had a layer of mud over the top, but underneath it was like a rock. Somerset's vaunted aerial attack coupled with a strong ground attack, which was run off the single-wing functioned smoothly while Case's T had trouble getting started on the slippery field. Case, especially the seniors, playing their last game, fought all of the way, but Somerset defeated us 50-0.

All-Narry selections from Case were fullback Hugh Kenworthy and utility lineman on the first team and guard, Dana Nickerson on the second team.

Senior lettermen were Captain Cris Greer, Hugh Kenworthy, Dana Nickerson, Dick Burnside, Dick Lund, Bob Sprague, Jim McKenny, Enrico Andrade, Don Walton, George Greenman, Ron MacKinnon, and Tom Holleran.

BASKETBALL

Faced with the loss of eight of last year's varsity squad, including Wally Sunderland, the team's high scorer, Coach Greene is building the team around Dick Pease, lone first-string holdover, and Bob Mickool who was ineligible for half of last season, Alton Holmes, Stan Johnson, Paul Ruest, and Leo MsCoomb are from last year's J. V. team. Jim McKenny, Dana Nickerson, Pete Greenman, and Don Walton are others of last year's holdovers. John Dattoli is a newcomer to the sport.

So far this season we have a record of six losses and one win, a 56 to 0 drubbing of Bristol Aggies.

Although the won and lost record is not the best, it does not tell the whole story. The team has, at all times, exhibited fight, but the disadvantages of playing every game on a strange court and having to travel to Fall River to practice have proved to be too much for the team.

BOYS TRACK

With much of our strength lost through graduation or to Uncle Sam, our chances for success are less bright than were they at this time last year, but the return of six veterans furnishes a nucleus around which to build.

Dick Lund, who made rapid advancement last year after being introduced to the shot-put, returns along with half-milers Hugh Kenworthy, Jere Gray, and Leo McCoomb. sprinters Bill Gilger and Bob Moniz, and jumpers Jim Greene and Don Walton.

Those, taken by the U. S. Marine Corps, were sprinters Ron Whitman, Charles Parent, and jumper Ron De Blois who also threw the shot-put.

Rick Andrade — Class of 1950 trophy for outstanding boy's performance at Dighton meet.

BASEBALL

This spring, Coach Greene will start practice with the job of molding a green team into a unit. Although eleven lettermen are returning, only two, Cris Greer and Ronald Correa, were starters last year. The other nine, Ronald MacKinnon, Tom Holleran, Vic Goff, Dick Burnside, Don Walton, John Dattoli, Paul Ruest, Dick Pease, and Teddy Ryalls saw action as reserves.

Whatever happens, however, we shall be out there fighting for the honor of Case High School.

FORMULA FOR SUCCESS

First, Graduate from High School.

Next, Take a one-year Secretarial or Accounting Course in a good Business School.

Then, Attend College, if you can.

A business or secretarial course will always be handy—at college, for taking notes or for earning personal expenses; and, if you should drop out of college for any reason (like father's death) you will have a practical training to fall back on and to earn a good living.
